

Let's sing together

Title: Something to give

Text: Lesley Ellison
Music: Lesley Ellison

There is always something to give
There is always something to share
Even though you think
You haven't got a thing
There is always something you can bring
There is always something to give!

You can give a smile
You can listen for a while
You can help your mum, you can lend your pen
You can say "Good morning" with love! (Good morning!)

There is always something to give
There is always something to share
Even though you think
You haven't got a thing
There is always something you can bring
There is always something to give!

You can give a hand
You can try to understand
You can help your mum, you can lend you pen
You can say "Good morning" with love! (Good morning!)

There is always something to give
There is always something to share
Even though you think
You haven't got a thing
There is always something you can bring
There is always something to give!
There is always something to give!
